Art Unit: 1755

Applicant's election with traverse of Group I is acknowledged. The traversal is on the grounds that the search for Group I should reveal all the art relevant to Group II. This is not found persuasive because the search required for Group I is not required for Group II.

The requirement is still deemed proper and is therefore made FINAL.

Claims 8-13 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim.

The listing of references in the specification is not a proper information disclosure statement. 37 CFR 1.98(b) requires a list of all patents, publications, or other information submitted for consideration by the Office, and MPEP § 609 A(1) states, "the list may not be incorporated into the specification but must be submitted in a separate paper." Therefore, unless the references have been cited by the examiner on form PTO-892, they have not been considered.

The drawings are objected to because figure 2 does not meet the requirements of 37 CFR 1.84. The micrograph of figure 2 was not developed on paper meeting the sheet-size requirements of paragraph (f) of this section and the margin requirements of paragraph (g) of this section. The figure contain alterations in the form of the micrograph stapled on the paper. A proposed drawing correction or corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities:

The phrase "...video tapes as magnetic head heads,..." on pages 1 and 5 is missing either a word or punctuation from between "tapes" and "as". The [in line 7 on page 2 should be deleted.

Art Unit: 1755

On page 3, line 24, "M Ohms" should be MOhms. Finally, the form of the blend is unclear. Page 5, lines 6-8 teaches the polymer and the CrO_2 of the blend are in the form of powders, while the specification teaches the disclosed processes produce the blend. The composition resulting from the processes are in the form of a sheet or film. Thus it is unclear if the blend is the mixture of powders used in the disclosed processes or if the blend is a melted and shaped composition.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim 1 is objected to because of the following informalities: The phrase "...video tapes as magnetic head heads,.." is missing either a word or punctuation from between "tapes" and "as". Appropriate correction is required.

Claims 3 and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as containing subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention.

There is no teaching in the specification that the additive is in the form of a powder. While the specification teaches the additive can be carbon black, a conductive carbon powder, this teaching does not support the claim that all additives are powders. There is no teaching in the specification that the melting point of the polymer at 5 Kpa is 95°C . The specification teaches the polymer melts at 95°C and that low density polyethylene melts at 130°C . The taught pressure is used to mold the melted polymer. In the examples, low density polyethylene is melted at 95°C under a pressure of about 5 Tonnes (5000 kilograms) on a 5 mm diameter pellet or about 254.65 kg/mm^2 . This pressure is equivalent to about 2497.26 Mpa. Thus claim 7 is not supported by the specification.

Art Unit: 1755

Claims 1-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claims 1-7 are indefinite since it is unclear if the blend is the mixture of powders as indicated by claims 3-6, or if the blend is a melted and shaped composition, as indicated but the claimed processes and the teaching in the specification that the processes produce the claimed blend. Claim 1 is indefinite since it is internally inconsistent. The preamble teaches the composition is a CrO₂ polymer composite, but line 6 teaches the composite can contain any magnetic filler. The phrase "magnetic filler preferably" should be deleted. In addition the phrase "preferably" after "polymer" renders claim 1 indefinite because it is unclear whether the limitation following the phrase is part of the claimed invention. See MPEP § 2173.05(d).

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1 and 4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Proskow.

This reference teaches a magnetic composite of 1-98 wt% CrO₂ powder, 0.3-7 wt% additives of a cross-linking agent and a lubricant and the remainder a polymer. The taught amounts overlap the claimed amounts. Product claims with numerical ranges which overlap prior art ranges were held to have been obvious under 35 USC 103. In re Wertheim 191 USPQ 90 (CCPA 1976); In re Malagari 182 USPQ 549 (CCPA 1974); In re Fields 134 USPQ 242 (CCPA 1962); In re Nehrenberg 126 USPQ 383 (CCPA 1960). The reference suggests the claimed blend.
